Kennedy Picks Defense Aide Concerned Over Business Slump

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy today picked Roswell Gilpatric, who was undersecretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration, to be deputy secretary of defense.

Kennedy announced selection of the 34-year-old Democrat as he started day-long conferences on planning of the new administration's budget against a background of concern over the business slump—a slump also bothering the outgoing Eisenhower regime.

Gilpatric, a New York lawyer, will be the 2 man at the Pentagon under the new secretary of defense, Robert S. McNamara, who is resigning as president of the Ford Motor Co. to join the Kennedy administration.

Gilpatric was undersecretary of the Air Force in 1951-53. In 1956-57 he took part in a study of the defense establishment, financed by the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. In 1958 he was named by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., to the advisory panel of the joint congressional subcommittee on military applications of atomic energy.

Gilpatric also is a member of two study committees which have prepared reports for Kennedy on the Defense Department and national defense problems.

He won a Phi Beta Kappa key for scholarship at Yale. He was graduated from the law school there in 1931 after serving as editor of the Yale Law Journal. Gilpatric has been a member

Cites Protests from Residents

Council Postpones Parking Ban Action

City Council's program to ban parking on segments of 10 streets was shelved temporarily by Council Tuesday night because of criticism from many of the residents of the streets involved.

The proposal was referred to the safety committee with instructions to give it a little more study with the view of making any changes found necessary.

Councilman Ralph Zimmerman, safety committee chairman, said he had received "quite a bit of criticism" from the residents of the affected streets since the proposal was announced by Council at a committee of the whole meeting more than a week ago.

Other councilmen also said they had received protests on the matter.

Most of the protests came from residents who don't have garages or driveways and are forced to park their cars on the streets. The proposed parking restrictions, the councilmen said, were designed to facilitate traffic and eliminate certain dangerous conditions which councilmen claim exist in many streets.

A request from Mayor Dean B. Crammer that Council set up sufficient funds in the temporary budget for the first quarter of 1961 to purchase a new police cruiser was turned down by Council.

Councilman Fred Koenreich, finance committee chairman, said there will be only enough money available during the first three months of next year for bare expenses. He said "we will be lucky if we can find enough money to pay salaries and wages during that period."

The safety committee was instructed by Council to study a plan to rent or lease police cruisers from private firms. The leasing plan has been adopted by many cities in recent months, it was reported.

The discussion of the police cruiser by the mayor set off a hassle among councilmen over the expenditure of funds for capital improvements. Councilman Carl Abe said if the mayor thinks he is going to dictate to Council on how to spend income tax money for capital improvements then he "has another guess coming."

Councilmen referred to his veto of the income tax because he said the city had enough money to operate on. Councilman Koenreich said that it was silly for the mayor to make that request at this time.

Koenreich also said there won't be any money for engineering expenses for the overpass on E. Pershing St. suggested by the mayor. Koenreich said the engineering of a survey would have to be done by the city engineering department on its available funds.

The mayor said he is going to ask Division 11 of the State Highway Department to help on plans for the overpass project. He also said that he will ask the general area manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad to see if the railroad can

U.N. Orders All to Share Congo Cost

Russians to Defy Resolution; Assembly Begins Long Recess

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. General Assembly recessed its turbulent 15th session early today after approving a resolution requiring all members to share in the cost of the 1960 U. N. Congo operation.

The Soviet Union vigorously opposed the plan. It made it plain it would defy the assembly majority by refusing to supply any part of the $48.5 million to be raised by assessments. The vote was 46-17 with 24 abstentions.

The assembly also authorized Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to spend up to $24 million for the Congo operation during the first three months of 1961.

Begins 11 Week Recess

The 99-nation assembly adjourned at 12:57 a. m. to begin an 11-week recess that will end March 7.

The stormy three-month session, which opened Sept. 20, was notable chiefly for the visit of Soviet Premier Khrushchev and the bitter Soviet campaign against Hammarskjold.

The final hours were devoted mostly to budgetary and other housekeeping questions, but the crucial issues raised during the session persisted.

Soviet Delegate A. A. Roschin told the assembly just before the postmidnight vote on the Congo budget: "One of the main causes of the situation as it now prevails in the Congo is to be found in the fact that the secretary-general, on his own initiative and without any authorization from the Security Council, has set up a United Nations command . . . consisting mainly of United States nationals and nationals of other countries in NATO."

Will Continue Attack

The Russians indicated they would continue their attack. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin called a news conference today to review the work of the session.

U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth said in a statement that the Soviet Union, because its plans in the Congo had been frustrated, had tried to punish the United Nations, to misrepresent and libel it, to hamstring its operations and to drive Hammarskjold from office.

Although the assembly deferred action on many issues, it did make several positive decisions, including:

1. It called for steps to bring "to a speedy and unconditional end colonialism in all its forms and manifestations."

2. It declared the Algerian people have the right to independence and the United Nations has a responsibility to help bring it about when arrested. "Treat me accordingly."

3. It called on the nuclear powers to make every effort to reach an agreement banning further nuclear test explosions. It also called for a permanent agreement to prevent dissemination of nuclear weapons to countries which do not have them.

Unable to Agree

The assembly was unable to agree on any resolution on the Congo crisis. After weeks of debate on general disarmament, it decided to put the question over until it resumes in March. It postponed for another year consideration of the seating of Red China.

Other key issues were not even discussed. These included President Eisenhower's proposal for economic aid to Africa, outer space, the Hungarian problem, Communist Chinese occupation of Tibet, Soviet charges of U. S. aggression, Cuban complaints against the United States, and the continuing division of Korea. All will be taken up at the March meeting.

Scientists say they must know exactly how much background infrared light is reflected by the earth to Midas satellites so they can accurately tell whether a hostile missile has been fired.

Fish Jury Returns Not Guilty Verdict

The jury received the case at 2:10 p. m. and returned the verdict an hour and 50 minutes later.

Nazi Slayer Of Jews Held In W. Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Richard Baer, handcuffed and demanding treatment as an officer, was brought here today to face charges of murdering thousands of Jews in the gas chambers of Auschwitz concentration camp.

Baer, 49, was Auschwitz's last commandant.

German police arrested him Tuesday at Dassendorf, near Hamburg, where he had been working as a master lumberman under an assumed name.

"I am an officer," he asserted when arrested. "Treat me accordingly."

He was manacled and, with a heavy guard, put on a train for Frankfurt.

Baer succeeded Rudolf Hoess as Auschwitz commandant in 1944. Hoess and another Auschwitz commandant were executed after the war for crimes committed at the camp.

State Atty. Heinz Wolf said Baer is charged with murdering Jews in the camp and also during a retreat from the camp in January 1945 as Soviet soldiers approached.

Authorities learned last October that Baer was alive and offered a reward for his capture.

It was learned he was a master lumberman named "Neumann," who lived at Dassendorf on the Prince Bismarck estate, might be Baer. Samples of his handwriting were obtained for checking.

This disclosed "Neumann's" true identity, which he at first denied.

FARMING TRENDS — The face of America is changing; in a matter of 12 years (1947-59) the number of farms dropped from 5.9 million to 4.6 million. Newschart, above, shows that with this change came a huge reduction in farm jobs and farm population. Figures in all categories have been projected to 1970 on the basis of recent trends. Source: U. Goldberg Has An Idea

Of the Cabinet members named by President-elect Kennedy, Arthur J. Goldberg to be secretary of Labor is most likely to hold the powerful spotlights that play ceaselessly over government personalities.

Goldberg has an idea. He has a program drawn up and waiting. Unlike the other new Cabinet officers, who will have to learn their jobs from the ground up, he already knows his job. He has been working at it as special counsel to AFL-CIO, personal adviser to George Meany, president of AFL-CIO, and general counsel to United Steelworkers. That is, in fact, the labor secretary's job—to get along with unions.

Does this background mean Goldberg will be oversympathetic to his former clients? James P. Mitchell, the present secretary of Labor, thinks not. He believes Goldberg will make an ideal secretary. This opinion is shared by some management figures who know him as a negotiator. He has earned confidence as an objective and intelligent specialist-mediator.

EARLIER this month, Mr. Goldberg spoke before the 65th annual Congress of America, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers. He showed then why he holds the trust of so many people on both sides of labor-management issues.

Labor-management relations, he said, are not good. They should be better. They can be made better if intelligent mediation can show both sides the benefits of working together.

Right now, labor and management are drifting farther apart. It is harder to get them together. Their positions are hardening.

The Steepening Price of Progress

The death of 11-year-old Stephen Baltz, only survivor of the airline collision over the New York City area last Friday, completes one of the blackest tragedies of aviation.

A curtain of silence has fallen over the scene of the grim mishap that snuffed out more lives than ever had been lost before in an aviation accident. There is no one who can talk.

Investigators will collect all the scraps and tatters of the great planes that destroyed each other and their passengers. They will piece them together, looking for evidence of mechanical failure. Every shred of evidence will be examined minutely. All the records will be re-examined.

All that will be learned is that someone made a mistake that no one ever must make again. Every aviation disaster theoretically makes flying a little safer than it was before. Perhaps the latest one will have this effect too.

But as the next disaster is awaited, this has become clear. From now on, the disasters will be worse. Planes are larger. They fly faster. The growing acceptance of commercial aviation as the mainstay of passenger travel makes it certain there will be more passengers aboard. The price of progress is steepening.

Techniques for controlling air traffic have not improved as rapidly as the increase in the volume of the traffic. Commercial aviation has done a superb job in coming this far with so few accidents in the face of so many hazards, but no one knows better than airline managers and their pilots how much farther airlines, government authority and airports must go before they can give assurance that nothing which would be worth doing has been left undone.

Railroads, buses, shipping lines, even escalators cannot be called absolutely safe.

The latest aviation tragedy is sobering.

It will hurt airline business. It will damage public confidence. Although no one will say it was inevitable, many people will say when the evidence is in that it was the result of circumstances that made trouble inevitable

unless the circumstances, themselves, were removed.

That is the history of safe transportation—the endless improvement of circumstances that, unimproved could be dangerous. Aviation has had another shattering reminder that its safety job has only started.

On the Other Hand

One kind of business forecast—the common kind this year—goes like this:

Observers don't like the looks of things.

They are gloomy in prospects for the next six months.

Some of them estimate a sag of between 2 and 3½ per cent.

Those who are reluctant to act bearish are also reluctant to act bullish. They are suspended in doubt.

This is the mood of the country. It is hurting business. It will continue to hurt business when the new year gets under way.

But don't be fooled, they warn. This wouldn't be the first time that observers

Once Over

There are daily reports of wonders of electric brain! Now from Boston College comes word of a machine to take drudgery out of "reasoning." It looks like a slot machine and it has a panel upon which words "Think again" light up in case of a "tilt!"

Punch card equipment feeds mathematical problems into the machine and it makes deductions faster than the human mind. The "thinkless man" is near.

To latest desk motto "THINK" has been added the word "WHY?" He uses his head" was once a recommendation but it may soon become a disadvantage, causing a boss to reject the job applicant with a firm "Sorry, but you could slow up the whole company operation."

We are approaching an age of empty-headedness. Man who was quick at figures is something of a vanishing American, brushed off by gears, levers, switches, buttons and computers.

A phone which dispenses of hello girl is undergoing tests in western city.

Washington has an electronic post office which handles letters without much help from human beings, punchboards are being fed into automation devices to tell your bank balance and now Boston comes up with an apparatus which reasons things out. This makes it possible for a man to get answer to a complicated mathematical problem while he personally keeps his mind on a blonde in the office across street, or tonight's date. Hold everything! There may even be an electronic apparatus to establish acquaintance with the blonde and a device to keep dates by pushbutton.) Longfellow might put it to day:

"In the world's broad field of battle
Brush away all mental strife;

Let machines take on your thinking
As you lead a brainless life

Lives of engineers remind us
We can make our lives serene

THESE'S NEED for an American Society for Protection of Holy Hymns of Yuletide from confiscation and overexposure by air-wave hucksters.

Famous songs of Christmas, symbols of faith which once gave spiritual glow to firesides of America, now pour over airwaves to plug salad oils, bad breath remedies, smokes, dog food, liquor, ships, shoes and sealing wax.

Corporation moguls who are churchgoers, pillars of society and ardent supporters of the sanctity of Yuletide songs in own homes don't mind tossing them into the hopper for use in sales pitch for everything from salami to structural steel.

Mortimer Topblower has taken to throwing rocks at his radio and TV set as he declares: "The shepherds who watched their flocks in the fields are getting a rough deal from the hucksters who watch cash registers while he personally keeps his mind on a blonde in the office across street, or tonight's date. Hold everything! There may even be an electronic apparatus to establish acquaintance with the blonde and a device to keep dates

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Those who want to know what Jack Kennedy will be like during the infighting of the next four years, should know what happened during the 48-hour scuffle over the appointment of Arthur Goldberg as secretary of labor.

Few remember, but back in 1932, the presidents of the 19 construction unions petitioned Franklin D. Roosevelt to name Dan Tobin as secretary of labor.

Old Dan was teamsters president when Jim Hoffa was heaving strawberry crates. FDR didn't, but he did launch his campaign at teamster banquets, giving Tobin global prestige and publicity.

After Kennedy was elected, he building trades claimed him as their man. They asked one of the electrical workers leaders, Joe

Keenan, to see him.

Keenan went to the pre-inaugural red brick White House in Georgetown and said his people wanted a labor man from the construction trades as secretary of labor. The skilled craft trades wanted it known that any other appointment would be interpreted as a message from Kennedy that labor was a second-class citizen.

Keenan, in effect, said no. They were wrong and they could think what they wanted. He wanted Arthur Goldberg, no just as secretary of labor, but as a Cabinet confidant and even advisor on world affairs. Keenan did not leave exactly empty handed. He probably will be named as assistant secretary of defense.

THEN EVERYBODY waited for

AFL-CIO President George Meany to return. When he did, the labor chief saw the President-elect. Kennedy told him he would name Goldberg. Meany was amenable. But in the hours before he got to JFK, he had been sought out by his own friend, Neal Hagerty, the building trades leader.

Hagerty, who had been very active politically in California, told

Meany that the crafts wanted recognition by having "their man" in the Cabinet. This was a bid for real labor power because the labor secretary will be the conduit on all such matters flowing into the White House.

There have been reports that the old craft unions objected to Art Goldberg because he once was the CIO's lawyer. Not so! They told

Meany they believed that the time had come for them to be again recognized as the real influence in labor — just as in the "old days."

WHEN GEORGE MEANY saw

Jack Kennedy the latter knew all this. He asked his friend Meany to go back and tell the craft union chiefs that he would hold up the announcement for a day so they could reconcile themselves to it. He was going to make the appointment on the basis of professional skill and not pressure.

It would be nice however, he added, if the news would be greeted quietly and without grumbling.

Goldberg had not asked for the job, nor had he sent an emissary.

It would not be fair to have Goldberg come in under a divided labor movement. Meany was friendly.

They are where they always are this many days before Christmas.

They will not make it. In the midst of Christmas day, someone will ask, "Where's mother?" And there she will be—wrapped up in Christmas paper under the tree.

quite dead and ever so happy at last.

Moreover, when they think about the stuff they know they are going to get for Christmas, they wish they had let nature take it course, instead of trying to steer everybody into something usable. It would have been more fun to get a hockey stick and a pair of ice skates than slippers and house coats.

They have run out of Christmas cards to send to people who crash through with cards at the last minute.

The fruit cakes they slaved over were not worth the effort, judged by the sample, which still is giving them heartburn.

When they think of adding the complications of Christmas dinner to everything else that has been making their shoulders sag, they have no appetite. Macaroni and cheese would be a sufficient challenge.

FICTION

THE DOUBLE BLIND by John Rowan Wilson. The title refers to a term used to describe a form of medical experimentation where neither doctor nor patient know which people received the new medicine being tried out and which merely a harmless neutral liquid. High suspense ensues in this story when some of a young doctor's experimental people die from what is apparently the effect of the disease he is trying to cure.

CATHERINE CHALEY by Humphrey Pakington. Fancy the consternation in a very, very old-fashioned English family when the youngest daughter falls in love with the cook's son! Mr. Pakington is delightfully funny as he pokes fun at all and sundry.

A CORNER ON ANGELS by Garet Rogers. All about a red-haired Irish girl who outsmarts most of the men in the law profession. Having been a fighter from infancy, she manages to enjoy much of it; an engrossing story.

APOSTLE IN A TOP HAT by James Patrick Derum. A fictional biography of Frederick Ozanam, the French lawyer who abandoned his law practice to become a substitute instructor at the Sorbonne because there he could come into direct contact with many of the people who were responsible for the sweep of atheism and agnosticism over France after the Revolution. Finally he became a successful writer and was able to wield a really large influence. His aim in life was to bring people back into the Church and to relieve poverty.

INCIDENT OVER THE PACIFIC by James Macgregor. Ten people are aboard a plane going from Honolulu to Sydney, when they come to the site where an A-bomb test is scheduled to take place, it becomes evident that somehow it has been planned that they shall be destroyed by it.

THE SLEEP OF REASON by Warren Miller. A young man becomes involved in the Washington hey-day of a rampant Committee on Un-American Activities. The humor is usually enjoyable, although at times a bit heavy-handed. The wit is always sharp.

For Young Adults
ACCENT ON APRIL by Betty Cavanna; ON STAGE MISS DOUGLAS by Lisa Howard; BITTER-SWEET AUTUMN by Grace Kisinger; THE YEAR'S BEST SCIENCE FICTION.

Mysteries and a Western
THE CRIME HATERS by Gordon Ashe; PITFALL IN AUGUST by Howard Roman; THE BERLIN COURIER by James McGovern; FORT DECEPTION by Cliff Farrell.

NON-FICTION
PORTRAIT OF MAX by S. N. Behrman. From the dust jacket - "Out of Mr. Behrman's conversations with Max Beerbohm has come an informal, intimate and exquisitely wrought portrait of a man who called himself 'an interesting link with the past'". There are few "Best of 1960" lists in which this sprightly book is omitted.

THEY NEVER CAME BACK by Allen Churchill. These are the true accounts of eight people who vanished without a trace. From four-year-old Charlie Rose, whose case was the first known kidnaping for ransom to Ambrose Bierce, famous writer who was last seen crossing into Mexico and was never seen again.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm the father of five children. My wife thinks children should be forced to eat everything that is put on the table. When the platters are passed if the children do not take a helping of everything offered my wife puts it on their plates.

If they don't clean their plates she makes them sit at the table, sometimes for as long as two hours. Dinner time at our house is getting to be a nightmare. The kids start to cry the minute they sit down at the table. Sometimes I get so upset I can't eat a bite.

My wife says her brother was a finicky eater and she's going to see to it that HER kids grow up to like everything. Please tell me if she's right or wrong.—NERV-OS DAD.

Dear Dad: Finicky eaters are a nuisance but your wife's approach couldn't be worse. Forcing food on children is no way to get them to like it. It's a sure device for getting them to hate it.

Urge your wife to get professional guidance at once. Any doctor will tell her she's rearing her children to despise food and meal time.

No Help Wanted

Dear Ann: I'm a divorced woman who has been going with a man for three years. For two years I was ignorant about his church and believed him when he said we couldn't be married in his church. Then he decided his mother would not accept me regardless.

He has stood me up on dates and lied about where he had been. I've loaned him several hundred dollars and he has made no effort to repay me.

I have a hunch I've been subsidizing a secret romance between him and a young carhop but he denies everything. Right now I'm on nerve pills and under a doctor's care.

I need advice but don't tell me to stop seeing him. I love the louse and there never will be anyone else for me. Please give me some help.—RUTH.

Dear Ruth: I can't help you. You won't let me. The only solution to your problem is to break up with the man but you don't want to. He has all the qualities of a dog except loyalty. And you enjoy the abuse.

Normal for 15

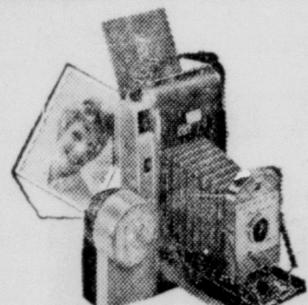

Dear Ann: My mother reads your column every day and so do I. Please print this for both of us.

I am 15 and have never had a date but I talk about boys a lot. Does this mean I am boy crazy? My mother hears me talk on the telephone and then she starts with the boy crazy bit. Please give us your opinion.—NORMAL I THINK.

Dear Normal—I THINK, TOO: A 15-year-old gal who never has had a date is not boy crazy if she merely talks about boys. In-

Quakers Back In Groove; Beat East Palestine 62-52

Davidson Hoops 21, Eskay Sinks 18 to Pace Salem Scoring Attack

Bulldog Ace Jim Hartshorn Held to 15 Points; Duane McClaskey Starts

By DICK BRAUTIGAM
Some of the sting was taken out of two previous sub par performances when the Salem Quakers came through in the clutch and fought off a scrappy East Palestine quintet for a 62-52 victory on Tuesday night on the Bulldogs' home court.

The win for the Quakers evened their season record at 2-2 while East Palestine slipped to a 2-3 mark.

Don Davidson and Bob Eskay supplied most of the scoring punch for Salem as they racked up 21 and 18 points, respectively.

East Palestine's all state candidate, Jim Hartshorn, who had a 27.7 average going into last night's contest, was held to 15 markers by the Quakers. Also hitting in double figures for the Bulldogs were Jerry Bush with 12 and Dick Crossland with 13.

BOTH TEAMS STARTED out at a rapid pace. With "Bo" Eskay popping in his first four shots from the field, the Quakers maintained a narrow margin throughout most of the first period. Some fine outside shooting by Bush helped the Bulldogs keep pace. Salem held a narrow 19-18 lead at the end of the initial stanza.

Davison took charge of the Salem attack in the second frame, hitting on five of seven shots from the field as the Quakers stretched their lead to 38-33 by intermission.

Salem shot well over 50 per cent in the first half, hitting on 16 of 30 attempts. East Palestine was hot, too, firing in 13 of 33 shots for a 40 per cent accuracy mark.

Both teams went cold in the third quarter. The Quakers made only two of 16 shots from the field and four of nine free throws that frame. The Bulldogs weren't having much shooting success either except for Crossland who banged home seven points which allowed East Palestine to tie the score at 46-46 going into the final eight minutes of play.

EAST PALESTINE TOOK a 47-46 lead in the first minute of the final stanza, but it was that man Eskay again who jolted the Bulldogs with one of his patented jump shots. Eskay's bucket made the score 48-47 and the Quakers never again were headed.

Hartshorn and big 6-5½ center Jim McCloskey, who had been taken out by Coach Charles McBride in the third quarter after getting in trouble with four fouls, re-entered the lineup for East Palestine but McCloskey promptly pulled Eskay and left for an early shower with 5:34 remaining.

After falling behind, the Bulldogs were forced to come out after the ball and in doing so they started fouling.

Eskay, Bill Beery and Ronne Janovec made things rough for the Bulldogs as together they hooped eight foul shots in the final period.

East Palestine converted six fouls of its own but the Bulldogs couldn't find the hoop from the field and went without a two-point-the entire fourth quarter.

AFTER A GOOD first half, East Palestine shot a miserable 6 for 31 in the last two periods and wound up with a poor 29.7 per

Gary Jeffries Carries Salem Reserves to 53-44 Victory

An example of how one man can carry a ball club never was more in evidence than Tuesday night at East Palestine when little Gary "Gouber" Jeffries led the Salem High reserve squad to a 53-44 victory over the Bulldog JVs.

With Jeffries, a 5-8½ junior, in the lineup, the Quakers were a ball team. Without him they were a very unsure bunch of individuals.

In the first half with Jeffries playing, Salem rolled up a comfortable 30-17 lead. Jeffries accounted for Salem's first seven points in the game.

Coach Karl Zellers kept his ace on the bench at the start of the second half since there was a good chance he would be needed in the varsity game. The Quakers' big lead immediately started slipping away and with 3:01 left in the game, East Palestine had whittled the margin down to three points, 42-40.

Back into the lineup came the Jeffries boy to hoop seven points in the next minute of play and the Quakers finally saluted the game away.

Jeffries' playmaking ability, good defense and all-around hustle made the entire team work harder. He did a fine job working with 6-4 sophomore center Bob King who wound up with 20 points, all but two of them coming while Jeffries was in the lineup. King did a good job on the boards.

Gouber hit 22 points in the two games and in the half periods he played but the Browns.

Southeast Rolls Over J-M 67-45

Jackson-Milton went down to its fifth defeat of the season without a win Tuesday night when it was trounced by an invading Southeast cage squad 67-45.

The Quakers' performance last night wasn't a picture of perfection but their improvement over the past two games was encouraging.

One noticeable improvement was on defense. Senior Duane McClaskey made his first start for the Quakers and it was he who had a great deal to do with tightening the defense. He reinjured his knee late in the game, but he said he was all right after the contest.

McClaskey hooped only two points the entire game but he dropped back on defense and did an outstanding job protecting against the fast break which the Bulldogs never were able to pull off.

THE QUAKERS weren't allowing the talented Hartshorn to break into the key where he has displayed a deadly jump shot.

Bush, a 5-11 senior who also is a standout on the football field, did the Quakers as much damage as anyone. He was shooting from far out with considerable success.

The East Palestine club appeared to be one of the best coached Bulldog teams the Quakers have played against in several seasons.

Coach McBride was not unhappy with his team's performance last night. "Those foul shots hurt us," he commented. "Eskay is a real fine ball player," he observed. "Davidson was really fighting, too."

"We'll get better as the season moves along. After all, two of our boys didn't play basketball last year," the East Palestine mentor added.

SALEM COACH John Cabas said he believes the Quakers are just beginning to jell. He was happy with their progress last night.

He used a starting lineup of Davidson, Eskay, Ted Thorne, John Borrelli and McClaskey. Berry and Janovec also saw considerable action.

Davidson was back in form last night, fighting for rebounds. He pulled off 13. The tall senior also hit 8 of 17 shots from the field. Eskay looked good. The 18 points he collected marked his best scoring effort of the young season.

Considering the bad weather conditions, a good crowd was on hand for the fray. There were a few empty seats.

Salem will lay off a week for Christmas, taking on Clevel and West in their next game at the Senior High gym on Dec. 27. East Palestine will be idle until Jan. 6 when they play a Tri-County League tilt at Columbian.

The total kill for the 1960 deer season will not be known until

Ohioans mail their hunter report cards and they are processed.

This information is normally avail-the close of the season. The harvest for the three-day 1959 season was 2,874.

Ideal conditions greeted Buckeye deer hunters throughout most of the state as three to six inches of snow make the animals more visible and aided in tracking. Despite these good conditions, hunting pressure was light excepting on state owned lands. Wildlife areas and state forests were more nea-vely used.

Top counties in the incomplete

opening day deer kill report were:

District 3, northeast Ohio—Trumbull, 40; Ashtabula, 28, and Portage 27; District 4, southeast Ohio

—Meigs, 21; Vinton, 15, and Mor-

trict 5, southern Ohio — Gallia,

14, and Ross, 9.

Even District 2, northwest Ohio, had some good kill reports. Seneca and Defiance counties reported

6 each, Paulding 5, and Wil-

No deer were reported bagged in District 6, southwest Ohio, or

District 1, the three-county Lake

Districts 1 or 6.

Several large trophy-sized racks

Summit County, 10-point buck;

Faupling County, 10-pointer; Van

Fourth-Ranked Indiana Slips Past Notre Dame, 74-69

Purdue Downs
Evansville 84-75

Providence Edges
Gonzaga 81-80

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Jim Hadnot suddenly has become unbeaten Providence's "has all" in leading the Friars to their last four victories, three of them cliffhangers.

Hadnot, a 6-foot 10 junior, scored 39 points Tuesday night, and the final two came with one second remaining and pulled out an 81-80 victory over Gonzaga.

Last Saturday he got the clinching basket with 10 seconds left as Providence beat Canisius 53-50. His two baskets in an overtime period against San Francisco gave the Friars a lead they never lost in a 54-47 victory. His first-half 65-59 two nights before.

Providence gets its next big test against St. John's Redmen in New York's Holiday Festival next week. St. John's, ranked sixth in the current Associated Press poll, moved its record to 5-0 with an 87-86 victory over Pitt Tuesday night.

Indiana, ranked fourth, defeated Notre Dame 74-69 for Coach Branch McCracken's 300th basketball victory as Hoosier head coach. None of the other top teams were in action.

Another Big Ten power, Purdue, led by Terry Dinsinger's 43 points, beat Evansville NCAA small college champs 84-75. Don Kojis led Marquette to a 70-62 victory over Iowa State while Northwestern's 53-45 victory over Washington cracked a four-game losing streak.

Mark Dumars, a 5-10 sharpshooter, sparked Penn State with 36 points in a 77-58 victory over Syracuse. Jeff Cohen scored 27 points for William & Mary's 80-50 lacing of winless Virginia. The Cavaliers are 0-7 this year and have lost 21 of their last 22 games.

Brigham Young held high-scoring Kansas star Wayne Hightower to only two field goals in an 80-70 victory, while Little Max Perry scored 27 points in Utah State's record-breaking 110-88 win over Los Angeles State. Wisconsin won over Nevada 89-56, Connecticut upset Brown 85-71, The Citadel beat Georgia Southern 90-84 and East Tennessee State surprised Georgia 69-67.

Cincinnati Royals
Drop 115-112 Tilt
To Boston Celtics

By The Associated Press
The New York Knickerbockers, 11½ games behind the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division, still have hopes of gaining the playoffs.

New York, in last place, trails the third-place Syracuse Nationals by 4½ games after putting on a hot fourth quarter Tuesday night to win 122-112.

In the opener of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader, Boston was trailing the Cincinnati Royals 60-55, but rallied for a 115-112 decision.

At Portland, Ore., the Detroit Pistons beat Los Angeles for the first time in five tries this season, 97-94.

New York led by 13 points early in the game, then Syracuse went ahead 79-72, only to have the Knicks tie the score at 91-all at the end of the third period and move ahead for good.

Buchholz, Mackay Turn Pro; Slap at Amateur Tennis

SYDNEY (AP)—U.S. Davis Cup stars Barry MacKay and Earl (Butch) Buchholz agreed to three-year $50,000 professional contracts today and took a slap at amateur tennis hypocrisy.

"I feel wonderful for the first time," said Buchholz, who at 20 is the youngest player ever to join a tour.

"All our lives we were taught honest. It gives us a dirty feeling to take money under the table as amateurs."

"What makes it worse is that amateur tennis officials know that these abuses are taking place and they accept them."

MacKay, 25-year-old graduate of the University of Michigan, said he gave the matter plenty of thought before making a final decision.

"Amateur tennis as now constituted is a farce," he said. "I think the future of the game lies in professional tennis."

Both players reached agreement with Jack Kramer shortly after the promoter arrived from Los Angeles. They open a tour Dec. 31 in New Zealand.

The decision leaves the U.S. Davis Cup picture in a dark state.

America probably will have to depend on Chuck McKinley, 19, St. Louis, and Dennis Ralston, 18, Bakersfield, Calif., in the cup competition next year.

Morrow presented the trophy to Baker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Baker who in turn awarded the trophy to their son.

Akron U. Cagers Trip Youngstown In Invitational

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Akron University's Zippers copped the fifth annual Akron Invitational Basketball Tournament Tuesday night with an easy 79-63 victory over Youngstown, which had lost only once in seven previous games.

It was the fourth time in five years Akron has won the event, and it gave the Zips a 4-2 record for this season.

Consolation winner was Morris Harvey of Charleston, W. Va., which thumped Muskingum 96-79 as Bruce Hewitt, a 6-foot-1 junior, tallied 31 points for the West Virginians. With 17 he scored Monday night, Hewitt won individual scoring honors for the tournament.

Alex Adams, Bob Greene and Terry Marsh each made 20 points in the final against Youngstown. The Zips moved from a 10-10 tie to a 20-10 lead in the first 10 minutes of play and never were headed thereafter.

Detroit Gets Crack at OSU

Coach Calls Buckeyes Team 'Best in Country'

By JERRY GREEN

DETROIT (AP) — What runs through a coach's mind the day before a game with college basketball's supreme ruler, Ohio State?

Troubles and more troubles. Bob Calihan, who has guided Detroit into the eighth position among the nation's cage powers, has them—a basketball. The assignment of meeting the unbeaten Buckeyes on their court Thursday night is enough to give Calihan the shivers.

His ace player—All-American candidate Dave De Busschere—has a date with the doctor today. And his Titans—invincible at home—have a seemingly incurable case of jitters on the road.

And Detroit hardly has played like the eighth best team in the country in its last three outings. "I don't think there's anything wrong with DeBusschere," said Calihan. "But he looked tired against Nebraska last Saturday and again against Gonzaga Monday. He was flat-footed at times. But don't forget he's been going 40 minutes in every game. This physical is just a precautionary measure."

"I plan to have Dave guard Jerry Lucas (Ohio's All-American) and I don't see any reason why he won't be able to play."

DeBusschere, averaging 20.8

points a game, scored a career low of eight against Nebraska. In the first half against Gonzaga, he scored nine, but appeared dead on his feet. He snapped out of it in the second half and paced Detroit to an 80-75 triumph, its fifth in six games, finishing with 27 points.

The Titans haven't lost at home in two seasons. Their road performances have been flecked with disappointment against most better than average opponents. Two nights after they upset fourth-ranked Indiana in double overtime at home, the Titans fell before Purdue 83-64 on the road.

"I don't think there's such a thing as a road jinx," Calihan said. "Most teams consistently are better at home than they are on

Green Bay Must Stop Van Brocklin

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers are concentrating on building a defense against Norm Van Brocklin, the man their boss considers "a brilliant passer who functions as a coach on the field."

"We've got to stop Van Brocklin and his passing to (Tommy) McDonald and (Pete) Retzlaff," Vince Lombardi emphasized as he sent his players through a rugged drill on the frozen turf here Tuesday.

Van Brocklin is the quarterback of the Philadelphia Eagles who will meet the Packers in the National Football League title game next Monday. It will be the first championship game for the Packers since 1944.

Lombardi said that in addition to breaking up the overhead game the Packers have to stop the Eagles' ground attack.

"They (the Eagles) have shown mobility on the ground, too," he said. "Billy Barnes and rookie Dean Dean are not only excellent receivers, but they are fast runners."

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

New Ways to Treat Multiple Sclerosis

Despite the pessimistic statement of the physician-patient with MS (multiple sclerosis) who reported that, "after initial improvement, he became worse after each treatment," a few reliable observers report long-term results indicating that the progress of the disease could be somewhat slowed by a low fat diet.

More encouraging than the dietary approach to treatment are two newer leads, each presumably acting through the pituitary regulator of so many vital body functions.

From the observation that many patients with the "butterfly rash" disease of lupus erythematosus also had manifestations of MS, it was suggested that administration of pituitary steroids might have as favorable an effect on the injured nerve, when patients whose manifestanerves as on the affected skin.

WHEN THIS approach proved encouraging, steroid treatment also was given patients whose manifestations were exclusively those of MS. And again improvement was noted, especially if treatment was begun very early in the course of the disease.

That's why it is so important for you to recognize the early symptoms of MS in yourself or in your relatives if you're already a victim of the disease.

For, if you visit your doctor immediately instead of delaying for five years as has been the previous experience, it may be possible to prolong and intensify the remission and to delay and weaken the exacerbations.

The second lead stemmed from the chance observation that a patient with MS, treated for acne with the antidiabetic drug tolbutamide (Orinase), experienced a remission of his nervous disorder at the same time that the skin affliction was favorably influenced. La-

Dr. H. T. Hyman that many patients with the "butterfly rash" disease of lupus erythematosus also had manifestations of MS, it was suggested that administration of pituitary steroids might have as favorable an effect on the injured nerve, when patients whose manifestaations were exclusively those of MS were similarly treated, a similar favorable result was observed.

WHILE IT IS too soon to make expansive claims for any form of treatment in a mysterious disease whose course is always so unpredictable, it would be a mistake to withhold administration of tolbutamide, with or without pituitary steroid, and with or without the low fat diet, until a completely satisfactory statistical study becomes available.

It becomes your physician's responsibility to observe the effects of treatment with diet and/or steroids and/or tolbutamide.

In any instance, however, you must remain under continued observation while treatment is being conducted, since either or both of the drugs may have undesirable side effects.

Finally, if you have any difficulty securing treatment, you may obtain advice and assistance from the National Multiple Sclerosis Society of 257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N.Y.

New Deal For Washboard Cookies

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Make the acquaintance of these delightful cookies now.

Why do they recommend themselves? They're thin, crisp, bland.

Hash a la Lubeck

(Serves 6)

Rich pie pastry for 1-quart casserole or pie dish, 3½ cups chopped cold roast beef, 2 teaspoons chopped capers, 4 anchovies, 3 eggs, beaten, 3 tablespoons bread crumbs, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon grated nutmeg, 1 teaspoon salt, Caper sauce or anchovy cream sauce.

Line casserole with pie pastry. Mix beef with other ingredients. Add 1 more beaten egg if necessary for smooth, slightly moist mixture. Pour in casserole.

Cover top with pie pastry; crimp top and bottom pastry together in a decorative edge. Gash top in simple leaf pattern.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes to 1 hour, or until crust is golden. Serve with caper sauce or anchovy cream sauce.

Some cooks like to bake cookies on the top shelf of the oven in some ranges this method facilitates even browning on both top and bottom of the cookies. Ed. Makes 48.

but flavorful. Just the sort of tidbit that's perfect for snacks, plain or fancy; to serve with punches and eggnog at holiday parties, with simple fruit or frozen desserts or creamy custards at festive meals.

How did they happen? Last summer a reader asked us for a recipe for Washboard Cookies, describing these as "crisp with prominent coconut flavor rather than the obvious texture of coconut strands."

Guessed by the name we tested a recipe labeled "washboard" and gave the rule, using short-cut flaked coconut.

When fine-grated coconut recently appeared we were reminded of the original request and put it into a new and richer washboard.

This one beats the other and here's the recipe:

New Washboard Cookies

1 cup butter, 2½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar, 1 egg, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 2 cups sifted flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 cup fine-grated coconut.

Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg and vanilla. Stir in well the flour and salt, then coconut. Chill.

Form thin rectangular ridged cookies by pressing through the saw-tooth plate of a cookie press. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in hot (400 degrees) oven for 8 minutes or until edges are browned. Makes 48.

Note: If you haven't a cookie press, roll pieces of chilled dough, about as big as walnuts, into ovals between your palms; place, several inches apart, on ungreased cookie sheet.

Strain and add softened gelatin; stir until dissolved. Stir in Madeira and lemon juice. Turn into individual molds.

Chill until set. Turn out and serve with whipped cream (slightly sweetened) and vanilla-flavored ice cream.

Wrap a piece of muslin, wrung out in cold water, around the bottom of a glass tumbler and press cookies thin.

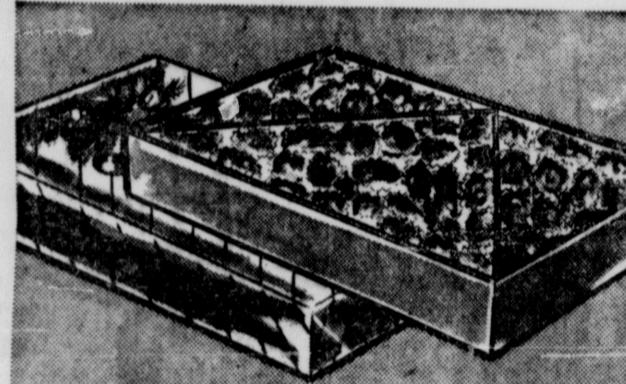

With sharp tines of a fork, dipped in cold water each time, draw over cookies to mark "washboard" lines. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 10 minutes.

Turkey Chowder

1 quart turkey broth, 1 can (10 to 11 ounces) condensed tomato soup, 1 can (about 8 ounces) cream-style yellow corn, salt and pepper.

Heat broth, undiluted soup and corn slowly, stirring often. Add salt and pepper to taste. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Chill until set. Turn out and serve with whipped cream (slightly sweetened) and vanilla-flavored ice cream.

Turkey Chowder

1 quart turkey broth, 1 can (10 to 11 ounces) condensed tomato soup, 1 can (about 8 ounces) cream-style yellow corn, salt and pepper.

Heat broth, undiluted soup and corn slowly, stirring often. Add salt and pepper to taste. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Wrap a piece of muslin, wrung out in cold water, around the bottom of a glass tumbler and press cookies thin.

With sharp tines of a fork, dipped in cold water each time, draw over cookies to mark "washboard" lines. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 10 minutes.

Strain and add softened gelatin; stir until dissolved. Stir in Madeira and lemon juice. Turn into individual molds.

Chill until set. Turn out and serve with whipped cream (slightly sweetened) and vanilla-flavored ice cream.

Larger Turkeys,
Pork Cuts Good
Buys For Holiday

The larger turkeys are the best buy, reports Richard Skinner, marketing agent with the Mahoning County Agricultural Extension Service.

Because of the increased production, the larger type birds offer the best buy. A thumb rule to use when buying turkey for your family is to allow one serving per pound for birds under 12 pounds and to allow one serving per one-half pound for birds over 15 pounds.

Pork is in season. Look for Christmas hams to be featured in many stores. By careful shopping you can save. Loin roasts and Boston Butts are economical choices also.

Citrus fruits are abundant. Tangerines are available. You may find them as low as 39 cents per dozen. Oranges are slightly higher because of Hurricane Donna. Grapefruit prices are holding steady. Apples have excellent color this year which makes them a good choice for fruit bowls. Cranberries continue to have a low price tag.

There is a wide selection to choose from at the vegetable counters. The root vegetables are hearty additions to cold weather meals. The cabbage clan - broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower and cabbage are still plentiful and of good quality. Select your lettuce with care as the cold weather in the producing area did some damage.

You'll find a wide selection of dried fruits and nuts to choose from. At the dairy case there will be many cheese spreads for sandwiches during the holiday season.

Raisin Pudding Is Winter Fare

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Less rich than plum pudding, although it's made with suet, this steamed raisin pudding is one of the most satisfying winter desserts.

If you can manage it, make up the pudding and steam it just before serving. This way the texture is wonderfully light. But if you do have to re-heat the dessert, you'll find it still utterly delicious though not quite so fluffy.

The lemon sauce that accompanies the pudding is thickened with flour, so don't expect the clear effect that such a sauce, made with cornstarch, achieves.

Steamed Raisin Pudding
1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon each cinnamon and clove, 1 egg, 3/4 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons dark molasses, 1 cup finely chopped suet, 1 1/4 cups seedless raisins, 3/4 cup hot water.

Sift together the flour, soda salt and spices. Beat egg until thick and ivory colored; mix with sugar, molasses, suet and raisins (rinse in hot water and drained).

Stir in sifted dry ingredients, then hot water. Turn into buttered 1-quart mold. Place on rack in large kettle having boiling water come up to half the depth of the mold.

Replenish with boiling water, if necessary, during steaming period. Keep kettle covered and steam 1 1/2 hours, having water bubble gently. Serve hot with Lemon Sauce.

Lemon Sauce
5 tablespoons sugar, 2 1/2 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 cups boiling water, grated rind and juice of 1 large lemon, salt.

Stir together thoroughly the sugar and flour in a 1-quart saucepan. Add butter. Gradually stir in boiling water.

Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until thickened. Stir in lemon rind and juice and salt to taste. Serve hot.

Coconut Roll

10 1/2-ounce package shortbread cookies, 1 1/3 cups packaged coconut, 8 1/2-ounce can crushed pineapple, 2-3 cup coarsely chopped nuts.

Take out 1/2 cup coconut and toast it in a 325 degrees F. oven for about 20 minutes, or until golden brown. Stir occasionally. Crush cookies.

Add remaining coconut, pineapple and nuts and mix together. Form into a "log" and roll in toasted coconut. Wrap in aluminum foil and chill for 1 or 2 hours. Cut into slices and serve.

Hawaiian Pancakes
(Makes 8 servings)

Pancakes:

1 cup milk, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon melted or liquid shortening, 1 cup pancake mix.

Filling:

1 1/2 pounds, 4-ounce can crushed pineapple, 1 tablespoon cornstarch.

Combine pineapple and cornstarch in small saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally until thickened.

For pancakes, place milk, egg and shortening in a shaker or glass jar. (If melted shortening is used, add after pancake mix.) Add pancake mix; shake vigorously 10 times or until batter is fairly smooth.

Pour batter onto a hot, lightly greased griddle to form 8 pancakes. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once.

Fold pancakes with pineapple filling inside. Garnish each serving (2 pancakes) with one-half slice pineapple, coconut and a maraschino cherry.
